

Pacific College of Health and Science is seeking a dynamic individual for Tui Na Instruction on the NY Campus.

We are seeking a faculty member with exceptional communication skills who has a passion for teaching, and whose enthusiasm for the subject matter will be an inspiration to our students. The successful candidate will be expected to be knowledgeable in health care disparities concepts and experienced with online learning

Course description: The traditional methods of Oriental physiotherapy, known as Chinese Tui Na massage, are taught to provide the student with non-invasive methods of treating structural and soft tissue dysfunction. A history of the development of Tui Na will be presented. Qi gong therapeutic exercises and meditation are also presented as part of the treatment process.

Job Summary: Adjunct faculty serve as a subject matter expert within their assigned discipline and participate on various program committees and curriculum meetings. Experience with health care education and online curriculum/course development is a must. This position will help with course design and student assessment.

Minimum/Required Qualifications:

- NYS Licensed Massage Therapist or Acupuncturist
- Terminal degree required for graduate courses, with at least 18 credit hours required in the field of study delivered.
- Experience and professional practice in, health care, or health administration (at least 3-5 years).

Desired Qualifications:

- Experience in university level teaching preferred (2-5 years)
- Experience with Moodle, Zoom, or other online platforms
- Student-centered teaching philosophy
- Familiarity with instructional technology

Application Deadline: Tuesday, October 5th, 2021

To apply, please send a cover letter describing qualifications and resume/CV to

Kiera Nagle, MA, LMT Director of the Asian Holistic Health and Massage Therapy Program knagle1@pacificcollege.edu.

Pacific College of Health and Science is one of the oldest and largest accredited institutions training professionals in the areas of Oriental medicine, acupuncture, massage and Chinese herbal medicine. Founded in 1986, with the mission of training primary healthcare providers in the field of Oriental medicine. Pacific College has campuses in New York, San Diego, and Chicago, and features an esteemed faculty of professors from around the globe that conduct ongoing research and educate approximately 1,000 students every year.

We offer the opportunity to work with a dynamic team of professionals. We are committed to creating a diverse community of faculty, staff, and students.

Pacific College of Health and Science is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Applicants are considered on the basis of their qualifications for the position without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, citizenship, age, marital status, disability, veteran's status or any other personal trait protected by federal, state or local law.